Women's fashionMent's fashionBeautyHomeYou can qualify for Prime Access in two ways: based on your household income or by being enrolled in a government assistance program. If you qualify through income, our secure third-party partner will verify that your household income is at or below 150% of the Federal Poverty Guideline based on the information you enter. This verification is quick and easy. Alternatively, if you're enrolled in a government assistance program, you can upload documentation showing your participation. Eligible programs are listed below. This process is secure and your documentation is deleted from Amazon after the verification. - Supplemental Security Income (SSI) - SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program) - Medicaid - Direct Express Debit Card (DE) - Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) - National School Lunch Program (NSLP) - Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) - Women, Infants, and Children Program (WIC) - Tribal Assistance Eligibility Letter (TTANF) - Puerto Ricos Nutrition Assistance Program (NAP) Once your eligibility is confirmed, you can start enjoying the Prime benefits. If you dont qualify for Prime Access but are a 18-24 years old or a student, check out Prime for Young Adults, or see if you are eligible for a 30-day free trial of the full-priced Prime membership.
